Each of our memories elicits a story that only we can tell. Time may lose that memory, may alter that story. We need to capture memories for posterity and for ourselves. This collection of sixty stories from forty families and friends covers many genres: war stories, family stories, stories of passions and pursuits. Each captures slices of those unique memories from life's adventure.

WorldCat.org index captures the list of subjects and families, and libraries. OCLC Number 1407832311

Compiled and edited by M. A. Blackledge, USNA '63 of Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA, this 8.5"x11" 388 page soft cover collection with color illustrations and index is dedicated to Patricia Ann Blackledge Price Blide, a beloved sister and renowned teacher of high school students in Texas.

The legacy of family history, especially family stories, is one of the greatest gifts that we can give to our descendants. These stories will be treasured by future generations.
